- On 5 March 1952, 21 MiG-15s and type-29 planes were counted on the landing field of Parchim airfield. More aircraft were possibly located at the field since only the aircraft on the open landing field were observed. Between 1:30 and 4 p.m., four of the eight planes parked at the east end of the runway took off at intervals of 10 minutes. The buildings at the field and those along Dammerweg appeared to be occupied to capacity.

- The view from Spornitz-Parchim road was limited because of the fence which was completed. [REDACTED]
